We cordially invite you to participate in the international scientific and technical conference "Progress in Applied Electrical Engineering" (PAEE2024), organized by the Warsaw Branch of PTETiS, in cooperation with the Faculty of Electrical Engineering of Warsaw University of Technology.

PROGRESS IN APPLIED ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING (PAEE 2024)

About PAEE

The conference „Progress in Applied Electrical Engineering" is focused on practical achievements in the field of electrical engineering, electronics and automation. A rich publication offer and the exchange of experiences of research teams from all over the country, together with unique atmosphere created by attendees have been register PAEE in the calendar of events important for electric engineers.

From the beginning of the Conference history, the main goal was to constantly make the publication offer more attractive, in such a way that the maximum number of positively reviewed and presented papers could be published in significant and valuable journals. Thanks to the activities of the Scientific Committee represented by people with recognized authority in their fields and most of its composition - also present at the conference, it is possible to improve the substantive quality of the presented works and broaden the knowledge horizons, resulting in overcoming many encountered problems of a scientific nature.
